Dear Friends:

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY!

As I started writing today, I realized you would be reading this on such a wonderful day! Mothers are truly a gift from God. Every day they put into practice the words of today's Gospel:

Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you.
Not as the world gives do I give it to you.

Mothers never seem to run out of peace or patience or the ability to give UNCONDITIONALLY! With Mary as their guide, they care for their children, and the children they meet, with kindness, compassion and constant forgiveness. What a blessing to have these caregivers with us everyday to remind us of God's unconditional love IN ACTION!

Over the past few Sundays, I've found myself in a position of caregiver for my own mother and father. Often times I've turned to Mary and Jesus for patience and compassion – being the child is DEFINITELY the easier of the two roles! I've also noticed two lovely ladies in the second pew, who are full time caregivers for their patients. I think they too should be honored this Mother's Day! Their care and compassion are evident each Sunday as they not only share in the Eucharist, but they continually keep a watchful eye on the elders of our community who have been entrusted to their care. I say a prayer for them every Sunday asking for them to continue to be blessed by God with the patience and compassion that is so evident in their work.

Finally, I look to all of you who may not be able to share this day with your own mom. I remember only a few years ago trying to comprehend why God would take a mom away from my student so close to Mother's Day. In today's Gospel I am given the gentle reminder:

If you loved me,
you would rejoice that I am going to the Father;
for the Father is greater than I. And now I have told you this before it happens, so that when it happens you may believe.

Thank you God,
for the gift of all those Moms,
and Caregivers, in our lives –
be they women or men,
Young or Old –
We are blessed to have them even for a short time!

God Bless each of you – Joanne Bartolotti

LIVING THE LITURGY

God Willing...

I have learned from my Latino and Turkish friends to say, "I'll see you tomorrow, God willing." And now I have a much deeper sense of what that means. Last Saturday after First Communion and going to two receptions, I came home, made my bed and took a nap. I was heading downstairs to bring my wash in from the clothesline when I blacked out and ended up on the landing in a strange position! With the help of my sisters, firefighters and ambulance personnel, I got to Sequoia Hospital. So here I am at home, writing this on Wednesday, with a pacemaker and not too much the worse for wear!

What have I learned from this, you might ask? THAT EVERY DAY IS A GIFT, for sure! If the sisters hadn't been home, would my heart have started up again? One is in Tanzania and one had just left for Mass; ten minutes later, one would have been at a birthday party and the other one at the vigil Mass. I really feel watched over! And to be taken to Sequoia Hospital which is among the Top Ten in the country for hearts! The many people who took care of me were all wonderful, many of them Catholic and a reflection of the Bay Area: San Franciscan, Fijian, Filipino, Afghan, Indian, Cuban, Norwegian/Minnesotan. The daughter of one had just made her First Communion at St. Gabriel's and one of the male nurses had been to St. Brendan's for Sunday Mass. I was impressed by the sense of camaraderie they had – community, we'd say – everyone was gracious and thankful to each other and there were no boundaries between doctors and housekeepers. Like the kingdom of God, it seemed to me.

So, I have been commanded by everyone who knows me to slow down and I'll try. Thank you for your prayers and support. God willing, I'll be with you as usual this Sunday! Peace, S. Sheral

Life and Dignity Sunday

Next weekend, we'll be asked to sign up for the California Catholic Conference program to alert us to statewide issues involving life and dignity which need our support – the budget, abortion, immigration, benefits for the disabled and the poor. E-mail alerts will come weekly and your information will not be used for anything else nor given to anyone or any other group. Thank you.
