Hungry?

We all get hungry. Sometimes we just want a little snack and sometimes we want a banquet. Whatever we want, we know that we will be hungry again and we will want another meal.

We all want a long life. We want to experience as much as we can during the time that we have. Yet we never live long enough, and all of us die.

In chapter six of St. John's Gospel, Jesus describes himself as the Bread of Life, and he promises us that those who share in His Body and Blood, will never hunger or thirst again and that those who eat this meal will have eternal life!

What an amazing promise he makes us. Yet, every time we receive Communion in faith and hope, he assures us that he will be with us always.

We need the courage and strength of Jesus, the Bread of Life, who gives us courage and strength and promises to be with us always in life and in death.

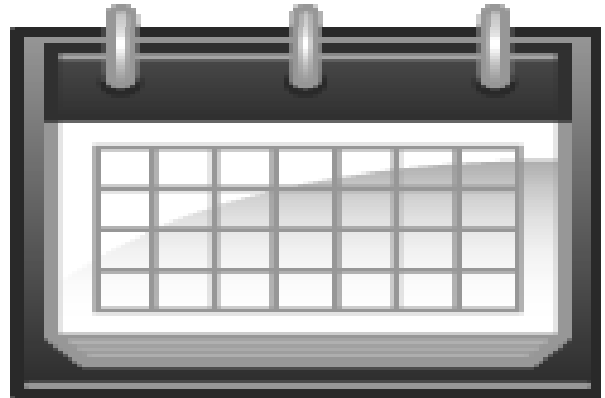

Fr. John L. Greene
